Dumas' famous "Three Musketeers" being presented at the Park Theater the latter half of the week and is deserving of the patronage of theatergoers. It is a romantic drama in eight tableaux from the French of Dumas, pere, and the company presenting it, with but few exceptions, is very clever. Mr. Hardy Glazier, the leading man, was a member of the company of Alexander Salvini for several years and was also seen here with Katharine Kidder in "Mme. Sans Gene." In the "Three Musketeers" Mr. Glazier takes the leading role, as Philip d'Artagnan, and he gets in and out of scrapes almost as smoothly as the Dumas character. Dumas' book, however, has been badly butchered in the play, and if one did not read the programme it would hardly be recognizable, although the story in the drama is a very good one and the acting of exceptional excellence for a popularpriced stage. The plot of the drama hovers over the securing of the queen's diamonds, which she has given to the Duke of Buckingham. The Cardinal, who is almost as powerful in court as the King, knows of the Queen's love for Buckingham and the gift of the diamond studs, and at a court ball which is announced by the King makes him give his word that these diamond studs shall form part of the Queen's toilet, to which the King consents. The Queen is informed and her trusted waiting woman pledges her word to the Queen that the time for the ball. In the meantime there are spies working for the Cardinal, who is stolen from the Duke by a woman spy of the Cardinal. D'Artagnan gets possession of be the mother of his sweetheart, but while escaping from the Cardinal's guard the diamonds are shot out of his hand and nal. All seems lost when on the evening of ball the King commands the presence of the Queen and does not notice the omission of the jewels until his attention is called to it by the Cardinal, who has the lamonds in his keeping. When the King demands the reason of the missing diaand the Queen refuses to answer, the Cardinal exposes all. But in the meantime D'Artagnan has had two diamonds King, after consultation with the Cardinal. unces the Queen's sentence and the King's guards, of which D'Artagnan is a ember are called in. In an aside he assures the Queen that she is safe in denouncing the plot as treachery, and just at this lewels and there is a grand expose and the lence amused and the duel scene, in which D'Artagnan makes appointments to fight a fuel with three of the King's muskeleers one hour apart, the sword play is excellent and the defeat of the Cardinal's guards, who come to interfere in the duel, is greet-ed by the audience with cheers. Blanche Stoddard, as Anne of Austria, does very good work. She is a pretty woman and suits the character. Vail de Vernon plays the part of Miladi Lady De Winter admirably, and Madge Tucker, as Constance, the Queen's waiting woman, plays the character fairly well.

"The Three Musketeers" will be the bill at the Park Theater this afternoon and evening and Saturday afternoon, closing with the evening's performance.

Miss Blanche Rice, the Ingenue of the Pike Stock Company, Cincinnati, is going to play the part of Beatrice Silox in the Grand Stock Company's production of "Niobe" here next week. "Niobe" requires the servces of half a dozen pretty women, and both Miss Rice and Miss Rand have attractive parts in this play. Some unusually pretty gowns will be worn during the "Niobe week at the Grand. It is essentially a dressy play all around, the men showing off to good advantage in that respect as well as the women. "East Lynne" will be seen for the last times to-night and to-morrow matinee and night at the Grand. The theater was packed again last night.

The houses have been good at the Empire all week, and "Wine, Women and Song" has been as thoroughly enjoyed by the patrons of that theater as any other show the Empire has offered. The Jenny Eddy trio, the Rackett musicians and the Burke brothers form a triolet that is valuable to any box office. Two performances to-day and two to-morrow close the en-

To-night at English's Leavitt's extravaganza "The Spider and the Fly" will be the attraction. The company contains a corps of specialty performers. There is said to be a chorus of pretty girls, tuneful music | for stealing a shotgun, was taken to that and special scenery.

Notes of the Stage.

A New York manager has gone to Havana to arrange for the production of an American burlesque in the Theater Payret in the Cuban capital.

Mr. Frohman has provided the company for Julia Marlowe's coming production of Clyde Fitch's play "Barbara Frietchie," which is under rehearsal at Philadelphia. In the last act 150 people will be on the stage. The heroine of Mr. Fitch's play will be found to be a new Barbara Frietchte. The period of the play is the same as that Whittier's stirring poem and the locale the same, but Mr. Fitch's Barbara is a beautiful Southern girl, instead of an old Mr. Fitch has delved into all available data to discover if Whittier's peroine had a real existence, and finds the orden of proof is against that fact. Barpara Frietchie seems to be a tradition, and he has felt at liberty to treat the tradi-tion in his own way. The result is an enrietchie with the courtship of Barbara Frietchie, with the surroundings of war.
She is the daughter of a stanch Confederate family and is loved by a young Southerner, but her own affections are bestowed upon a Union officer. Barbara is at first loyal to the faith of her family, but is graddencies. In the attack upon Frederick, where she lives, by the federals her love is seriously wounded by her own brother, and is brought to the Frietchie home, where he subsequently dies. The last act embodies in a slight degree the incident which Whittier made famous, and this is the only Thousands of People Present at the resemblance of the play to the poem.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, Ind., Oct. 5 .- The jury in the Willard Brown murder case was out about eighteen hours. At 9 o'clock this morning a verdict finding Brown guilty of voluntary manslaughter, and fixing his punishment at not more than twenty-one years or less than two years' imprisonment, was read by F. M. Collins, foreman of the jury. The boy's nerve did not forsake him when his fate was announced. The members of the family, the two younger sisters, especially, were deeply affected. The state had asked for a death sentence. It is said that early in the deliberations of the jury the majority ranged from acquittal to murder in the first

A disagreement was generally expected Wednesday, and as the hours went by and the jury remained in deliberation, the belief grew that there would be a failure to join in a decision. The verdict, all things considered, is regarded as satisfactory.

GREAT TIMES AT KOKOMO.

Merchants' Carnival.

special to the Indianapolis Journal. KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 5 .- Fully thirty thousand people were in attendance on the day's festivities of the Kokomo street fair. The day opened with a salute of ten guns. The visiting delegations were met at the trains by the reception committees and escorted to their places in the morning parade. The band of forty Miami Indians was escorted to the City Hall, where the pipe of peace was smoked and an address of welcome delivered by Mayor Armstrong. The morning procession formed in eight divisions, headed by old Chief Kokomo, with an escort of fifty mounted Indian warriors, followed by an apparently endless line of floats, civic and military organizations, with arms and uniforms, citizens in carlages and on horseback and 3,000 school children carrying flags. Captain Milton Bell was chief marshal. Bands were here from Fairmount, Greentown, Swayzee, Onward, Frankfort, Kokomo and other places. A mass band concert was given, under the direction of Professor Stubblevine, of the Indiana State Band, of Frankfort. The early afternoon was devoted to exhibition drills, Indian war dances, basket, ghost and green corn dances, Southern revels, cake-walks, etc., the dancing being on an elevated stage. The Indian village is an at tractive feature, the archery, Indian games and relics making an interesting exhibit. The night parade, with miles of illumin ated tableau cars and automatic floats and his band of warriors had the place of teen secret orders of the city had tableau cars in the parade, representing the birth and progress of America from the sailing of mbus to the present day. The tableaux included the "Commission of Columbus," the "Voyage and Welcome of Columbus," "Clearing the Forest," "Breaking the Soil," "The Gleaners," "Art, History and Literahunting scenes and many others carriages, and citizens. Torches and Roman candles were used in the parade. The fireare lavishly decorated for the occasion, the houses being almost buried in bunting and national colors. The street car poles and wires are decorated the entire length of Main street. A masque ball at the armory and an athletic carnival at the opera house late to-night were the closing attractions. The Kokomo merchants spent nearly $10,000 in the festivities and are well pleased with The fistic festival in connection with car nival day did not pan out. This action by Dr. Hattery was a surprise to his Democratic colleagues and they are wondering what is going to happen next Dr. Hattery was chairman of the finance committee and also chairman of the electric light committee, which has charge of the management and operation of the municipal which the Democratic majority of the Council has been expending the city's money has caused much adverse comment, and so Pharos, the Democratic organ of the city and county, has repeatedly cautioned the Democratic members of Council through its columns and advised more economy, but to no apparent effect. When the present Demoago last spring, succeeding a Republican administration, the city's financial condition was of the best, city orders being at par, the banks thus accepting them, and to purchase them on the streets was an impos-sibility. Now city orders are below par and the banks accept them only at a liberal

It is known that, while as chairman o these two important committees. Dr. Hat tery probably has done the best he could under the circumstances, he has felt himself handicapped by the acts of the majority of the members of the committees and his colleagues in Council, and while he assigns no reason in his resignation for his action, it is presumed that, considering the drift of affairs, he chooses, at this time, to stand from under rather than assume responsibility for the actions of others. The Democratic majority in power in city affairs is rapidly becoming demoralized and the prediction is freely made that at the next city election there will be a general shaking up ful Meeting at Winamac. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WINAMAC, Ind., Oct. 5 .- The veterans of the Forty-sixth Indiana Volunteers held a two days' reunion at this place. In 186 the regiment mustered from Logansport 1,023 strong and at the roll call made today 72 surviving veterans responded. The leaders of the Democratic party are disnayed at a speech made by Judge George Burson, of this place, when he renounced his allegiance to the anti-expansion idea. He said: "The Philippine islands are now part of the United States, by conquest, by solemn treaty, ratifled by Spain and by Congress, and by purchase for a price paid. We are not attempting to crush freedom in the Orient, but are strengthening its bulwarks as handed down by our forefathers and I

BIGGEST MAN IN INDIANA. Death of George Washington Walker of Fatty Degeneration.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ALBION, Ind., Oct. 5 .- George Washington Walker, the heaviest man in Indiana, died to-day at his home five miles northwest of this city after an illness of about a month of general fatty degeneration, aged forty-nine years. The funeral will be held in a tent, as it is impossible to get the casket in the house. Elza Shaffer, undertaker of this city, took his measurements after death, showing a height of five feet ten and one-half inches, measuring through the abdomen nineteen inches and across the shoulders twenty-seven inches. The casket will measure thirty-four inches in width and twenty-four inches in height, which is one and one-half inches wider and one inch high-er than an ordinary rough box. The body and the casket will weigh nearly 800 pounds. Twelve years ago he was only an ordinary man in weight, but he began to accumulate fat and in less than five years weighed nearly 500 pounds; after this weight was reached the accumulation of fat was slow but constant, until he reached the enormous weight of 535 pounds, and for several years his weight has remained at or near this

Other Deaths in the State. NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Oct. 5 .- A telegram was received in this city to-day announcing the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher Ingold at Kansas City, Mo. This is a great shock to the people of Noblesville and to her many friends at Indianapolis where she was so well and favorably known. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James K. BLACKFORD COUNTY OFFICERS. Some Irregularities Are Discovered in

Their Accounts. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Oct. 5.-Yesterday afternoon Expert W. H. Ernst, who had been engaged to examine the books of the county officers, read and filed his report with the County Commissioners. Separate reports were filed for each of the county officers. Ex-Sheriff Bugh, a Republican, the rocords show, during his two years of office received $4,068.53 and paid into the treasury $3,635.68. A balance was due Mr. Bugh on salary of $809. This shows a balwas the big feature of the day. It was a Bugh on salary of $809. This shows a balcostume affair throughout. Chief Kokomo ance of $425.26. This amount consists of fees which were retained by the sheriff on the advice of the county attorney, and which are retained by every other county sheriff in the State. Ex-Sheriff Covault, Democrat, during his four years of office, received $7,674.70, and turned in $6,845.30. There is due him from balance of $857.86. Mr. Covault states that this amount consists of per diem fees and "in and outs," to which he was entitled. The treasurer's books show there is due the county from John G. Wood, Republican. $107.89. J. P. Rawlings, Democrat, has $40.19 due him from the county. The auditor's books show that ex-Auditor Painter, Republican, is indebted to the county $226.57. This amount Mr. Painter claims to be able to satisfactorily account for. Ex-County Clerk D. C. Caldwell, Democrat, has $24.82

due him from the county. Sheriff Covault, during his term of office collected and paid into the county treasury an excess over and above his salary of $4,432.70. The County Commissioners will not act on the report until the December term. and, in the meantime, the reports will be reaudited by the county officers, and in nearly every case it is believed the irregularity can be satisfactorily explained.

COSTLY WRECK AT LOGANSPORT. Three Panhandle Engines and Twen ty Freight Cars Demolished.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal LOGANSPORT, Ind., Oct. 5 .- The mos costly wreck in a property way in the history of the Logansport division of the Panhandle occurred last midnight at Peoria Junction, just west of the city limits. An extra freight, east bound, pulled by engine No. 475, a passenger engine, in charge of Conductor J. J. Gleason and Engineer W. H. Higbee, got beyond control coming down the steep grade into the city, running into an extra double-header, west bound, standing at the junction. The double-header was in charge of Conductor B. F. Davis and Engineer Milo Ford, the latter holding the throttle of engine No. 533, one of the larg. est type freight engines on the road. other engine was No. 458, which was just being tried after a course in the shops. passenger engine was thrown into the pletely demolished under the mass of wreckage which was piled up over it. Engine No 533 was partly thrown from the tracks and badly wrecked. Engine No. 458 escaped with a wrecked tender. Some twenty freight cars, loaded with grain and slag, were completely demolished in the mix-up. Fortu-nately, all the trainmen jumped in time to escape injury;

AN INDIANAPOLIS COMPANY. It Will Erect Five Wooden Bridges in Rush County.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RUSHVILLE, Ind., Oct. 5 .- The commissioners of Rush county dealt a knockout blow to the steel bridge combination yesterday evening when they decided to build wooden bridges in place of steel structures. The County Commissioners for three months have been endeavoring to award contracts for five steel bridges of moderate size. At each tender the steel bridge contractors presented bids so nearly uniform in amounts that the County Commissioners decided all was not right. All bids were rejected, but at each new tender the contractors made advances in the bids. Yesterday a general advance of $1,000 to $1,200 was noted in the blds over the former tenders Aug. 28. bids were presented, the difference between the highest and the lowest bid being $300. The highest bid was about $4,700. The County Commissioners in August concluded to ask builders of wooden bridges to present bids on the five bridges. Yesterday three wooden bridge builders presented figures so much below those of the steel bridge con-tractors that the board awarded the contract for the five bridges to be built of wood to the Indianapolis Bridge and Iron Com-pany for $1,339, a saving of $3,066 over the lowest figures on steel bridges.

cision at Crown Point. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CROWN POINT, Ind., Oct. 5 .- A case of great importance to the State of Indiana was decided in the Circuit Court to-day by Special Judge Hammond, of Lafayette. The case is the outgrowth of a law passed by the last Legislature wherein it gave the County Commissioners power to furnish a suitable place for the Superior Court at a suitable place meant a courthouse and took steps to erect one. The people of this city commenced injunction proceedings to stop the building of it, but the judge sustained the demurrer in Hammond's favor. The Superior Court at that city has con-current jurisdiction in all matters with the Circuit Court here, and if the Supreme Court affirms the decision there practically will be two county seats in Lake county and by special legislation any town in Indiana not a county seat can have a courthouse an court. The case will be appealed.

MORE LIGHT THROWN ON THE METH-ODS OF TAMMANY OFFICIALS.

Assaulted, and Whose Assailant

Went Free-Her Name Forged.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 .- The Mazet committee resumed its session to-day. Evidence was brought out concerning the unlawful sale of liquor by tenants of buildings owned by the city in the parks in the borough of Gussie Storm, a sixteen-year-old girl, testified that she was drugged and assaulted by Samuel Leight. She was subsequently found in his apartments and both were arrested. She was taken to the district attorney's office on June 24 and was asked by Assistant District Attorney Grady, a brother of Senator Thomas F. Grady, the Tammany orator, not to press the charge against Leight. Mr. Grady promised, she claimed, that if she would not press the charge he would see that Leight was punished and that she could go free at once. Otherwise, he asserted, he would make it bad for her. A letter, purporting to be from her, was sent to the trial judge, stating that she herself was not altogether faultless. The witness claimed that she had never written such a letter. Leight's brother-in-law, Joseph Lapidus, showed her a similar letter and tried to get her to sign it. When she returned he told her that others would fix it up. The letter was sent and Leight went free. Grady is now dead, George P. Hammond, a subpoena server, testified that the office of Mr. Moss has been under continual espionage. Mr. Moss asserted that he asked for this information because he believed that the case of Gussle Storm was brought to trial because she had complained to his office. The Mazet committee will hold a session on Saturday. Justices Van Brunt, Barrett, Patterson, Ingraham, O'Brien, Rumsey and McLaughlin constituting the full bench of e appellate division of the Supreme Court, t department, have been invited to be ent. It is understood that Mr. Moss ishes to examine them on the subject of ssessment of judicial candidates. Similar invitations have been sent to Justive Truax, of the Supreme Court, and to Recorder Goff, of the Court of General Sessions. BAY STATE REPUBLICANS.
